2012 Deadline

If you are remitting contributions for the 2012 tax year, the deadline is March 1, 2013. We must receive the contribution in our office on or before the deadline date for it to be eligible for the 2012 tax year. As always, tax receipts for these contributions will be sent directly to your employees. ❖

2012 results

The results are in and we are really pleased with what happened in 2012. The return to members in the balanced fund was 8.5 per cent while members in the short-term fund received a 0.5 per cent return for the year. But that's not the only result we are pleased about; 1,088 new people joined the Plan last year.

Thank you

We continue to work hard to keep costs down so returns go to members. It is important for you to know that Saskatchewan Pension Plan (SPP) does not pay advisors or banks to sell SPP. This keeps costs down but presents challenges for growing our membership. Thank you for telling others about SPP - you are our very best (in fact almost only) sales force! So much has changed at SPP over the last few years and it is great to have members that believe in us and are helping us grow every day. Please keep your business and individual referrals coming in 2013.

We appreciate your feedback and comments. Please send a quick message to businessplan@saskpension.com and we will add your testimonial to our website.

Cynthia O. is the lucky winner of the Olympian Sports Start-up Challenge that we ran during the last quarter of 2012. Thanks to everyone who entered the promotion.

We look forward to continued growth and helping you and your employees plan for your future this year. ❖

Did you know you can transfer up to $10,000 per calendar year from existing RRSPs to your SPP account in addition to your regular annual contribution. The table on the left illustrates the impact of doing this for just one year.

Call SPP today for details or go straight to our website (www.saskpension.com) to get the form. Members complete Area 1 - Annuitant and mail it to SPP. We do the rest. ❖

Can you help us?

This year we hope to deliver this newsletter to you more regularly and we want to send it straight to your inbox. But we have a problem. We are missing a lot of email addresses for our employer members. If you could take a minute and send an email to info@saskpension.com, it would help us build our database for this distribution. All you need to do is put your company name in the subject line. Thanks for your help with this initiative. ❖
